Bottom Line

Your family matters even when it's fractured.

Scripture

Genesis 25:27-34 (NLT)

Icebreaker

If you could be a part of any famous family, which family would you pick? Why?

Discussion

1. Do you feel "pain" from your family or dysfunction in your family? If so, where?
2. Do you feel like you affect the emotional temperature of your family? Why or why not?
3. Have you contributed to the fractures in your family? How have you contributed to the health in your family?
4. What would you say to a friend who believes their family will never be different than how it is now?
5. Jacob and Esau probably would be surprised to learn they were such a big part of God's story – despite their dysfunction. What would you do differently if you knew there was potential for God to use your family's story?
6. What steps can you take to allowing God to use your family amidst the chaos, pain, and struggle?
