Bottom Line
Just because you can do something doesn’t mean you should.

Scripture
1 Corinthians 6:12 (NLV)

Icebreaker
• Talk about something or someone you were obsessed with when you were young. (Did you collect Beanie Babies? Were you into Legos? Did you go to seven Taylor Swift concerts?)
• If you could have a YouTube channel about anything, what would it be?

Discussion
1. What’s something you’re passionate about that others may not understand?
2. What’s one way you can tell the difference between a passion and an obsession?
3. What’s one example of something that might move from passion to obsession for a teenager?
4. How can an obsession impact you or the people around you?
5. How can you tell if something is good or wise for you to do?
6. How might doing something that isn’t wise or good for you impact your life?
7. How can creating boundaries help you avoid things that aren’t wise or good for you?

Activity
Choose a passion and talk through exactly what you would need to do to keep it a passion and not an obsession: gaming, boyfriend/girlfriend, basketball, pets, friends
